INTERNATIONAL WORLD OF VACATIONS® REACHES MULTI-YEAR AGREEMENT WITH GALILEO INTERNATIONAL AND CENDANT CORPORATION

November 30, 2005, CINCINNATI, OH – International World of Vacations (IWW), the leading home-based travel company named one of the top five business opportunities today by the Small Business Journal, is pleased to announce its landmark five-year agreement with Galileo International, Inc., a leading global distribution system (GDS), and its parent company Cendant Corp.

This agreement provides International World of Vacations with the premier travel and fulfillment technology in the industry. By partnering with one of the leaders in GDS technology, IWW will provide the company's home-based Independent Representatives (IRs) with the most comprehensive and easy-to-use booking system available. Each Independent Representative will be provided detailed information about available travel options from IWW's partners, as well as access to their individual sales records.

According to William LaSelle, founder and CEO of IWW, "This partnership brings together two leaders in their respective fields to create travel technology and a booking engine unlike any other available today. It's groundbreaking."

Cendant will also handle processing and fulfillment operations that will allow IWW to offer their clients the latest information on travel opportunities, accurate fares and speed of service. The partnership between International World of Vacations and Galileo and Cendant represents the marriage of two industry leaders and a new horizon for the future of travel.

International World of Vacations is a leader in the home-based travel business blending online technology with the personalized service of trained Independent Representatives to provide the best vacation packages from the top vacation suppliers worldwide. Independent Representatives enjoy the benefits of IWW's unique vacation credit bonus program as well as the flexibility of owning a home-based business. It is an unparalleled opportunity for entrepreneurs, investors and consumers alike.
